Action Expected at Next Friday's Meeting of Board of Estimate.

MEANS TO PAY ARE FOUND

Firemen Anxious to Get Back Day Off in Five-Making Volunteers at Home.

The decision for which the patrolmet and firemen are hopefully waiting or their appeal for a living wage may be made this week. The request of the Board of Estimate for a statement from the Police and Fire Commissioners i now officially in their hands. It took a long time to reach them, as the matter was referred to them eight days ago, but there is still plenty of time for the Commissioners to prepare their applications for the increase and get it on the calendar for next Friday's meeting. Both men have said that they would do this.

While the members of the Board of Estimate are keeping their own counsel the impression gains ground at City Hall that the wage advences will be granted either on Friday or on July 19, when the board probably will adjourn until autended also by city officials and coal dealers.

Providing the Needed Funds.

THE SUN is informed that influential members of the Board of Aldermen be-lieve that if necessary about $200,000 of the $2,000,000 worth of special revenue nds which that board can authorize in a single year could be made available for the firemen and patrolmen. More than $1,000,000 worth has been author-ized already, and it has been said heretofore that the rest would be needed for emergencies other than those in the Po-lice and Fire departments. Salary accruals in the two departments could provide more than $200,000. From accruals of other departments, reuiting from the administration's policy of not filling vacancies and of paring appropriations wherever possible, the balance of $250,000 that would be needed from August 1 to give the patrolmen and firemen a 10 per cent. raise could be obtained easily. Some of the city officers are anxious to hang on to the accruals so as to an-nounce a big saving at the end of the But as all the money in the city accrual fund when the year expires must automatically go into the sinking fund the redemption of the city's debt, and as even $1,000,000 in accruals would lower the tax rate a single point.

Volunteers Offer Remedy.

But it was understood that the really impossible burden of confinement to the fire house would be lightened as le. A way of doing this was volunteers-patriotic who would agree to spend a night each week in a fire house and "roll" to fires

Largely through the personal solicitation of the fremen themselves names of about 6,000 volunteers were obtained. The volunteer system was started on July 1. The firemen had rather expected that at the same time their lost time off would be restored, but it was not. Commissioner Drennan was apparently waiting to see how the volunteer scheme worked.

The volunteers are without equipment. They are sleeping in the regular fire-They are sleeping in the regular fire-men's beds, the linen of which and the York estate of John Armstrong Chaloner care of which the regular fireman pays York estate of John Armstrong Chaioner for out of his slim salary. men's beds, the linen of which and the care of which the regular fireman pays for out of his slim salary. If an alarm is rung in the volunteer jumps out of the fireman's bed and into the fireman's personally paid for "turn out"—the same being trousers and boots. He grabs a coat and heimet belonging to and paid for by a fireman.

He scurries out to a fire, where he looks after the horses or apparatus, helps drag a hose line, or otherwise helps without getting in the way or taking undue risks. Not having paid for the rubber boots himself—their cost is now almost prohibitive—and not being skilled in the firemen's tricks of mafety and economy, the volunteer sometimes gashes the boots on broken glass and ruins them. Whereupon the regular fireman, whose place the volunteer has taken for the night must dig into his earmings and buy a new pair.

York estate of John Armstrong Chaloner came to nothing yesterday when Justice It. Lehman refused to permit Thomas T. Sherman, as committee of Chaloner's property there, to be named as defendant as action for that amount.

George W. Watt obtained a Judgment against Chaloner in Virginia for legal services. As the latter has little property in that commonwealth he sought to enforce it in the New York counts. When Chaloner escaped from New York State after being adjudged incompetent here and went to his Virginia country place watt served as his counsel in his unsuccessful later effort to have himself declared sane in New York.

In denying Watts's application yesterday when Justice Lehman said:

unteers will quit. That none has quit so far is a testimonial to the forbearance of the firemen under a variety of harass-ments.

It is said in the Fire Department that Deputy Commissioner Joseph, who is working constantly for the welfare of the men, and who, like Commissioner Dren-nan, Chief Kenlon and the department generally, carnestly advocates the salary increase, intends to provide out of his own pocket money to buy equipment for the volunteers. But at present the city finds itself in a situation in which a rev York fireman, in addition to his own troubles, has to furnish bed linen and clothes for strangers within his gates.

Dr. Jonathan C. "If our county does not give a Whitman majority in the primaries," said he, "It will come near doing so. Friends of Gov. Whitman are beginning to organize in every part of the county. We expect to carry Yonkers by three to one. There is a Whitman organization of 150 members in Mount Vernon and a growing movement in New Rochelle. After the cities have been organized we will pay attention to the country districts." Mr. Coffey said 70 per cent. of the publican and expressed the opinion that the larger part of it would be for the Governor. It seems, according to Mr Governor. It seems, according to Mr. Coffey, that three men in each Assembly district in the county were chosen to pick the delegates to the Sagatoga convention and in their selections have absolutely ignored the women.
"Among the prominent women working for Gov. Whitman's renomination," said Mr. Coffey, "are Mrs. Frank A.
